Intro

Since 2011 Project Controls Expo has been the world's largest project controls event dedicated to its advancement as well as raising the awareness on its process, tools and techniques. Put simply, 'Expo is a celebration of all things project controls related', highlighting its value and the impact it can have when put to use effectively.

Over the years we have delivered major steps towards professionalising project controls and bringing its professional community together in a networking environment for knowledge sharing.

Now taking it one step further and bringing a global virtual platform which will enable the project controls community from across the world to participate in this immersive experience.
